TitleLogix Solutions, LLC announces the launch of TGX

SAN ANTONIO, TX – TitleLogix Solutions, LLC announced the launch of TGX, a state-of-the-art comprehensive tax certification platform.

"TGX" is TitleLogix Solution's Software as a Service (SaaS) tax certification production platform designed to deliver products to the title insurance and lender markets", says Max Harris, president of TitleLogix.  "TGX is a fully functional manufacturing platform that seamlessly integrates with customers for the placement of tax certificate requests on properties, the research and manufacture of the certificates, and the integrated delivery of the certificates back to the customer.   TGX offers a single or multi-tenant, Web based Portal solution that combines rules-based research and reporting, workflow management and tracking, client management, and accounting, supported by a comprehensive data management strategy."

TGX enables TitleLogix users to process and review tax service requests from anywhere at any time.  TGX combines data aggregation, data engineering, and database management, supporting real-time data scrapes, and manual research to deliver time sensitive comprehensive tax certification solutions.  Products produced are Ad Valorem Tax Certificates, HOA Certificates, Notice to Purchaser and Notice of Obligation documents, consisting of current and delinquent tax and HOA information from various state, county, and tax jurisdictions, with applicable tax amounts due, including penalty and interest, court cost, suits and attorney fees as may be applicable for each property searched. TGX products are guaranteed for accuracy.   Today, TGX operates statewide in Texas with plans for production in additional states in the future.  TGX, as a manufacturer, serves both the retail and wholesale tax certification marketplace.
